PROJECTS

Shree kalleshwara coir industry and Organic manures Katiganere ajjampura

Intership

When used in reference to fertilizers the word organic generally means that the nutrients contained in the product are derived solely from the remains of a by product of an organism. Cottonseed meal, blood meal, fish emulsion, manures and sewage sludge are examples of organic fertilizers. I learned this intership time management hardwork of making product and customer service and satisfaction.

A study on stress management of employees in IT sector, Bengaluru

Project

The Indian tech field includes both business process outsourcing and information technology services. Stress at work has a more prominent adverse consequences. Stress is a response to any external behaviour, situation, or event that causes an individual to feel excessively stressed emotionally and physically. I learned this project more work are they but always be calm don't take any stress at work time and go their some fresh hair and take time.
