PROFESSIONAL SUMMARY

I embarked on my career journey by working for first 10 years with multiple large corporates and MNCs. I mostly worked in the capacity of key account manager where excellent communication and interpersonal skills were pertinent in forging strong ties with clients. After taking sabbatical for 2 years due to child birth and rearing, I decided to swerve my career towards education and teaching. Over a span of 12 years I have imparted skills and lessons to students in the field of english language, public speaking, career coaching and mental health. Presently, I work as a freelancer.
